North Carolina Election.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 11.—Jonathan Worth, secessionist, is certainly elected Governor, over William Holden, Union, by from five to ten thousand majority.

RALEIGH, Nov. 12.—Turner, member of the Confederate Congress, is elected to Congress in the Raleigh district. Clark, who cannot take the oath, is elected in Nelson's district, over Lehman, who can take it. The other districts have not been heard from.

The Cholera Again.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The City Bank of Trenton, N. J., has suspended payment.

Calcutta letters of Sept 22d say that the cholera broke out Sept. 8th on board the ship Young Mechanic, for Boston. On the 9th Captain McLean, the second mate, and three sailors died. Five sailors who survived were sent to the hospital.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The cholera is still at work at Damascus and Aleppo. The mortality at Salaria is estimated at two thousand and at Jaffa one thousand. The malady is still at Beirut, but has lost its epidemic form. Our consul at Paris says there is no longer any doubt that the cholera has commenced its ravages in that city.

Reports from Florence to the State Department represents that the cholera has greatly diminished in the south and eastern portion of the Italian Kingdom. It is on the decline at Jerusalem, and also abating at Barcelona.

Major General Judson Kilpatrick, of New Jersey, is appointed Minister to Chili. Colonel Ed. J. Cook, of the same State, is Secretary of Legation.

Notable Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Colonel A. H. Bowman, of the United States Corps of Engineers, died at his residence in Wilkesbarre, Penn., this morning. He superintended the building of Fort Sumter, and at the time of his death was President of the Board of Engineers, charged with remodeling our coast fortifications.

The Pope and the Masons.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The London Daily News says: The Free Masons in England are following the example of those in France by protesting against the Pope's recent allocution.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Herald's Washington special dispatch says: The survey of the Mexican grant, San Ana and De Bache, which has been in litigation since 1856, was finally settled by the Supreme Court, which awarded the whole claim, save 10,800 acres. The survey upon which the patent is issued, covers about 48,000 acres.

South Carolina.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Herald's Columbia correspondent sends a report of the proceedings of the South Carolina Legislature up to the 4th of November, which are principally discussions relating to the condition of the negro. Some members express strong apprehensions of a negro insurrection. Bills have, therefore, been reported for the purpose of empowering State officers to seize all firearms found in the possession of the freedmen and to prevent them from hereafter becoming possessed of arms, and punish with severity any white persons proposing to sell the same to them. Measures are also proposed to shut up shops kept by freedmen, and prohibit any white person from employing a negro servant without the written consent of his or her former master having been first obtained. The South Carolinians are all very anxious for the removal from their midst of all the national troops and for the organization of their militia.

Losses at Sea.

NEW YORK, November 12.—J. C. Nichols, agent for extensive Spanish houses, arrived last evening, being one of the fourteen passengers who sailed on the brig Mary Ann for Havana. A member of the firm who were owners of the vessel, a wife and two children were on board. The vessel was wrecked off Frying Pan shoals. Nichols and nine others were taken in the first mate's boat, and, after four days of privation, picked up and kindly treated by the officers of the brig B[illegible] and brought to this port last evening. Four of these passengers—one of them a female—a member of the firm and his family, with the Captain and others, took to the Captain's boat, since which nothing has been heard of them. Nichols states they were obliged to open the veins of some of the party and were thus revived by sucking their blood.

No More Pardons to be Granted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Commercial's Washington dispatch says: "The President informed an ex-Confederate General to-day that it was not his present intention to pardon any more civil or military leaders of the rebellion."

Chief Justice Chase is expected in the city to-night, when something definite respecting Jeff. Davis' trial may be announced.

Kilpatrick Appointed Minister to Chili.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Times' special dispatch says: "The appointment of General Kilpatrick as Minister to Chili will not result in the immediate supersedure of the present excellent representative at Santiago, T. H. Nelson. Kilpatrick has three months' leave of absence to visit Europe first. He will visit Spain, and probably come to an understanding with the Queen as to our position with reference to the aggressions of Spain upon Chili and go thence to South America prepared to maintain the dignity of his mission.

Spain and Chili—From Louisiana.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Great indignation is felt in Government and diplomatic circles at the wanton attack of Spain on Chili. The Spanish squadron for the blockade consists of seven frigates. It is represented that great unanimity prevails among the Chileans.

Governor Hahn, just from Louisiana, represents that the returned rebels of that State are not acting very badly. In one parish they met in convention and re-established slavery by formal enactments and resolution. Three negroes have been killed by returned rebel soldiers within the last month.

At Alexandria, Virginia, last week, one of the civil courts sentenced a negro to be whipped under the old Virginia Code. General Augur promptly annulled the sentence.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The boiler attached to the Convent of Sacred Heart on Bloomingdale road, Manhattanville, exploded this morning and killed Fitzpatrick, the engineer.

George Arnold, the author of the McArone papers and a member of the press of this city, died yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—It is asserted from an official source that the army of the United States will not be reduced as has been supposed. Its full available strength exceeds 180,000, of which about one half is on each side of the Mississippi river.

To-day members of the late North Carolina Convention and other gentlemen had an interview with the President.

The Navy Department has received a telegram from Hilton Head dated the 7th of November, stating that the United States steamer Tioga had arrived there having on board Oliver Martin and James Norman, picked up at sea from a raft and the only survivors of fourteen who attempted to save themselves from the wrecked steamer Chubb.

From telegrams and other official communications received by the Secretary of the Interior from General Curtis and other commissioners to negotiate treaties with the Indians of the Upper Mississippi river, it appears that the mission has been entirely successful. Treaties have been concluded between nine powerful tribes of Indians.

The rebel General Longstreet saw the President yesterday.

Kilpatrick is understood to have a foreign mission in view. The World's special dispatch says: He has a leave of absence for a visit to Europe.

W. L. Dodge informed the Clerk of the House of Representatives that he was prepared to file the necessary papers to contest the seat of James Brooks. Eleven hundred pages of testimony have already been taken.

The Herald's special dispatch says, "A private telegram gives the report that the rebel General Forrest is in Mississippi; does not expect the President to pardon officers of his class, but leaves it to Congress, which will probably disfranchise them forever. But he will go to Washington and try the effect of money, and thus accomplish his purpose.

At a meeting of the commissioners of health held yesterday, a resolution was adopted directing the city inspector to detail a suitable number of officers in his department to examine the condition of the city in a sanitary point of view, and report thereon to the commissioners of health.

A commission has been appointed by the Government to select a site for a quarantine hospital on Sandy Hook. General Meigs has also ordered the barracks erected at Fort Schuyler to be transferred to Sandy Hook for hospital purposes.

The Times' special despatch says: "It is ascertained that during the entire war the navy has lost only 1,496 killed and 1,638 wounded out the seventy-five thousand sailors and marines on [illegible] rolls, inclusive of all losses in the grand battles on the Mississippi, at Charleston, Mobile, Fort Fisher and elsewhere. The whole expense of the navy since the beginning of the war, including the constructing and equipping of all vessels, and the maintenance, has been less than two hundred and thirty millions of dollars, or only about 7½ per cent. of the national debt. Moreover, we have at the close of the war ships enough to show for the money spent, constituting what is probably a better navy than that of any European power. We have constructed since 1861 two hundred and ten vessels of war, most of which are on the most improved model and containing all the appliances of modern offensive and defensive warfare."

The Commercial Advertiser learns by letter that the Convention of Florida, pronounced by an overwhelming vote, against State repudiation. Ex Governor Pierce, of Texas, an intimate friend of Governor Hamilton, says that Hamilton will hardly call a convention before the middle of January. The civilians fear that Texas will not be represented in the next Congress. The debt contracted by the State during the war, is nine million dollars.

Those who accompanied Breckinridge from Europe to Canada, and who have arrived at San Antonio, say that Breckinridge is determined to remove to Texas, if the President pardons him.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A Washington special says that the President is vigorously [illegible] to have Davis tried under the indictment pending since last June, in the Supreme Court of this District.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The loss by fire at Bancroft Mills, Medoca, on Thursday last, was not less than two hundred thousand dollars.

DEVELOPING THE SOUTH.—The New York Tribune of October 11th has the following:

An organization under the title of the American Land Company and Agency, has been formed in this city, which, when carried into [illegible] operation, will play an important part in the work of reconstruction. It proposes to act as agent for all those at the South who have land to sell or [illegible] and those at the North, or elsewhere, who have capital, skill or labor, which they may wish to turn to useful and profitable employment in agricultural or other industrial pursuits. It is capital and skilled labor which the South needs; the last she never had much of; the first she has lost by rebellion, excepting that invested in real estate. This slavery [illegible] in few hands, but, slavery abolished, the natural tendency is that it should be divided in smaller quantities among a larger number of persons. Large plantations should be cut up into smaller and [illegible] farms to be tilled by their owners, and the planters with no capital in money, and their capital in slaves restored to its rightful owners, the blacks themselves, must build up their fallen fortunes by this division of lands. The enhanced value of these lands will more than counterbalance, in a few years, the loss of the money value of the slaves. To bring this about capital is needed, and that must come from the North, and with the investment of this capital will go emigrants, filling up the South with a new and thrifty people, who will develop not only her agricultural but all the other resources in which she is so rich, but which the existence of slavery has hitherto paralyzed. To effect these results organization is needed, and the purpose of this agency is to bring the two sections of the country, one with its capital, the other with its boundless but undeveloped riches, into useful and profitable relations. Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, is the President of the company; Col. F. E. Howe is the Vice-President and General Agent, and these gentlemen, with L. W. Winchester, George Cabot Ward and Alfred Gat[illegible], are the Trustees. Other gentlemen of wealth are, we understand, to be engaged in the enterprise, whose characters will be a guarantee of its management and [illegible]

FROM VICTORIA.—We glean the subjoined items from our Victoria exchanges of late dates:

A reliable authority, writing yesterday from Kennedy Flat, Leech river, to a friend in this city, gives the following: "Great excitement at Leech this morning. The water is now much higher than it has ever been seen since the river was first discovered. The flumes, sluice-boxes, pumps, wheels, and everything on the river are all swept down as clean as a new broom could sweep a floor, without any exception. The ditch is now the only thing to keep the miners here, as no one will ever attempt the river again this season."

We understand that official notice has been received by Collector Wilson, of the sailing of the first class steam revenue cutter Lincoln, John W. White, commanding, on Sept. 18th from Baltimore, with orders to report for duty in Puget Sound Collection District. Capt. White will be reinforced as formerly in command of the cutters Jeff. Davis and Joe Lane on Puget Sound.

The Cariboo Sentinel has changed hands, and is now offered for sale by Mr. Lambert, the new proprietor, who was the printer and part owner of the paper last season.

Governor Pickering, of Washington Territory, left for Puget Sound on Saturday, by Captain Coupe's handsome little craft, the Kelurah.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 16 1865

Unfairness of the San Francisco Press

The very best coast trade which San Francisco now enjoys is carried on between that city and Oregon The whole mining region of this State and the far richer and more extensive districts which lie beyond our borders to the north and east covering a tract of country as large as the vast Territories which are situated between us and the Rocky Mountains and even further away are supplied through this port mainly by the merchants and shippers of California. Oregon is California's factor in this great trade She takes goods to supply the whole northern country and pays California therefor almost wholly in gold In view of the fact that she furnishes so extensive and so valuable a market for every variety of commodities which California has to sell it seems quite unaccountable that the newspaper press of that State should deem it to accord with the interests of her business men to belittle Oregon and either to speak contemptuously of her importance and trade or to ignore both altogether We are not imaginative enough to suppose that the California journals will ever begin to manifest a perfect impartiality in recording matters which relate to Oregon but it passes our comprehension why they should desire to depreciate her importance instead of endeavoring to aid her in growing great and in achieving results which will, in turn, assist California in becoming a populous, powerful and wealthy State

The papers of San Francisco either studiously omit to mention Oregon and to give her credit for what she has achieved or what is worse when they come to speak of her affairs, they misrepresent her entirely This is done in a great variety of ways They rarely speak of any vessel as arriving from Portland The steamers in almost every case come "from Victoria." The San Franciscans never receive any treasure from their quarter It all comes "from Nevada and from northern California." In their "Stock Circulars" they never announce the arrival of gold or silver from Oregon or the Territories. During the past month we have sent $1,500,000 to San Francisco, but no mention is made [illegible] of the fact Now it may seem small business to complain of these things, but we do not deny that we are desirous of having our importance [illegible], and that we want credit for what we have performed

The richest country in minerals now known lies beyond the mountains to the east of this place. California receives the treasure that comes from that region. But she has never yet furnished a dollar to develop it She has invested no — [illegible] in the country from whence comes so large a part of her own wealth, and to which she is indebted to a great degree for her present prosperity. She takes no interest in bringing this country into more general notice Why this is so, is difficult to comprehend If California is the head, the country north of her is a principal member. She has as much need of us as we have of her

BAD FROM THE SOUTH —The news from the South gives the country little to hope for as regards peace and the final adjustment of the National troubles. It must be owned that after months of patient waiting, and with the exercise of the utmost leniency toward the people of the South, there is little evidence of their returning loyalty In almost every State they seem determined to push their opposition to the extreme limit of the nation's forbearance. Guilty rebels who are granted pardon by the President, are elected by the people to fill their highest offices We are now told that Worth, an avowed secessionist, has been chosen Governor of North Carolina and that rebel Congressmen are elected to sit in the national councils at Washington Until the South gives up this semi-rebellious conduct there can be no peace. We are compelled to acknowledge, though reluctantly, that the President's plan or "experiment" of reconstruction is proving a failure Judging from changes in his policy, he himself evidently does not consider it a success. He affirms positively that he will grant no more pardons He orders Gov Holden not to give up the place he holds to the rebel who is elected to succeed him The President sees that he can rely on the loyal strength of the nation to sustain him in a sterner policy, and we believe he will pursue it.

COMPLEXION OF THE NEXT CONGRESS —The Chicago Republican gives the following as the best estimate that can be made of the political complexion of the next House:

	Union	Dem
Twenty-four Northern States have elected	140	41
To elect in Northern States	3	0
Eleven Southern States have elected	7	4
To elect in eleven S[illegible]	0	47
Total	150	92

Union majority 58 in a House of 242 members

As this puts the [illegible], should the nine Southern and [illegible] States all elect Democrats and should they all be admitted, that body would stand

Union	47
[illegible]	27
Union majority	20

A Copperhead paper regards "loyalty as a mean word anyhow" No doubt it considers decency and honor "mean words" too But according to its way of thinking universal freedom must be the "meanest" phrase of all. What kind of creature can he be who not only has no reverence for the most exalted sentiments, but even degrades them below all that is base and unworthy? A Copperhead is such a man

MURDERS BY THE NORTHERN INDIANS —From the Victoria papers we learn that Capt Thomas Gold and three of the crew of the British schooner Royal Charlie were murdered by the Kake Indians, a powerful tribe in the Russian Territory about eighty miles north of the Stekin river The vessel was on a trading expedition, and was supposed to be engaged in whisky traffic

FATAL ACCIDENT —The M[illegible] learns that a man named Smith was killed on the 7th inst near Miller's Ranch on Burnt river, by being thrown from his wagon as his team was running away He resided on Powder river, six miles above Baker City and leaves a large family there He was on his way to Owyhee with a farm load of produce

IN DANGER —Rev Mr Nasby publishes an appeal to his State (New Jersey) to stand firm against the Abolitionists Speaking of the momentous questions involved he says

"Look at what interests are at stake Do you want to marry nigger wenches? Do you want your gushin daughters tied by indissoluble ties to disgustin buck niggers? We hev persistently petitioned Abolishin Legislachers to pass acts preventin us from doing this foul thing but to no avale They hev turned a deaf ear to our entreaties, and to day we stand exposed to all these dangers"

The Statesman if we mistake not, thinks that the national debt adds three thousand millions to the cash capital of the country, and is, therefore a good thing The rebel debt is as large as ours and we suppose that the Statesman will soon ask that the two may be combined so that our capital may be doubled This would please rebels and Copperheads and make the Salem paper's philosophy consistent throughout

FRED PATTERSON This ruffian has gone through the farce of a trial by a jury of fellow "Democrats" at Idaho City, and of course has been acquitted By those who know the character of Patterson and his associates in Idaho, no other verdict was anticipated

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 10th inst contains the salutatory of Mr W H Newell, its new proprietor

The Morning Post says the intended withdrawal of the French from Mexico has lately assumed a more decided character Maximilian would recruit in Austria and Belgium He has proposed to permit French officers and men to take the oath of allegiance to Maximilian if inclined to do so Maximilian would then find himself surrounded entirely by his own army

Mission to Japan

New York, Nov 11 —Gen John E Logan has been tendered the mission to Japan, and it is understood he accepts

It is suggested by leading politicians that an amendment sanctioning the Union War Debt and ignoring the debts created for the overthrow of the Union, be added to the Constitution of the United States, and that the Southern States be required to adopt it before recognition

SINGULAR PHENOMENON ON GOOSE LAKE —By Whittle and Jenks says the Yreka Union just in from Surprise Valley, we learn that on the morning of the earthquake at San Francisco Goose Lake situate a short distance this side of the summit of the Nevada range of mountains, near the northern line of California, was covered with a great number of water spouts rising at the same time and at short distances from each other over the whole surface of the lake presenting much the appearance of an immense school of whales 'blowing' The fact with its relation—the earthquake, then unknown to Whittle and Jenks —extends the field of investigation to the scientific

SOME PROGRESS —James L Orr candidate for Governor of the Palmetto State has been brought by the logic of events to say I am tired of South Carolina as she was I court for her the material prosperity of New England I would have her acres teem with life and vigor and intelligence as do those of Massachusetts

Just contrast the above with the boastful utterances of the South Carolinians in former times Something has been gained certainly A part at least of the Southern people have been cured of their blind folly of other days

DEFAULTING POSTMASTERS —The Postmaster General in connection with the Sixth Auditor has been engaged lately in ascertaining the deficits of the various postmasters at the South before the war and in making preparations to enforce the collection of these deficiencies. The total amount of the deficiencies of those postmasters who held Presidential appointments is ascertained to be $164,905 66 In every instance the appointee now commissioned by the President and the Postmaster General is required to take the oath imposed by the act of July 1862 commonly known as the test oath In some localities individuals have been appointed where a loyal man could not be found

A Richmond correspondent of the New York Herald writes that there is a man in Virginia who indulges in the wild speculation of buying negroes emancipated by the caving in of the rebel Government at $10 per head in the hope that the United States Government will ultimately pay the full price for them He offers $10 in gold for the right of property in each negro and has, it is stated made some purchases

The Fenian Agitation—Absurdity of the Delusion

To appreciate the enormity of the Fenian delusion it is only necessary to observe a few facts. The American half of the conspirators firmly believe that an army of 200,000 men exists in Ireland, enrolled, organized and effective in all respects, saving officers and arms. The Irish half believes that officers and arms sufficient for 200,000 men are on their way from America on board a fleet of ironclads and will soon arrive. Out of those two notions the reality of the plot has to be constructed. We have already fathomed the depth of one of them, and we can take a pretty fair measure of the other. It is just possible that some thousands of Irish shopboys, artisans and laborers, have taken a Fenian oath, and not impossible that a few hundreds of them have as much drill as could be given by a discharged militiaman on a moonlight night, two or three times a week. That, however, is the amount and quality of the "organization" at home. Abroad, we have no doubt that a vast number of Irishmen in various parts of the United States have become nominal members of the "Brotherhood," but to suppose that they will venture their persons in a descent upon the British Isles, or that they will provide the Fenians in Ireland with either money or munitions for a single day's parade, would be a complete hallucination. Perhaps a case or two of arms may have been dispatched to Cork; indeed, it seems from the movements of our cruisers on the coast that they have actually been instructed to look out for some political smuggler but of the two shams we believe even the Fenian army to have more substance than its armory.

The more completely the scheme is revealed, the more supremely absurd does it appear. The Irish recruits must have thought that scattered companies of hair brained lads trained just to keep step and know their facings could suddenly coalesce into an effective army under officers which they had never seen, and with weapons which they had never handled. The Fenians in America must have fancied that they could transport from that country and disembark on the shores of Ireland the leaders and the material required for a force of 200,000 troops without difficulty or hindrance. Yet both these parties know and understood, as far as they were capable of understanding, the strength of the Power against which their operations were to be directed. By all Irishmen except Fenians this point has been very clearly seen, and insisted upon with a plainness very remarkable. The Irish journals ask the Fenians what they could possibly expect to do with all the strength and intelligence even of Ireland itself against them, and the power of the British Empire behind. As to the maturity of the plot, we have learnt from the public statement of the American Fenians that the organization in Ireland, such as we have found it, was actually complete. The preparations were finished, the army was enrolled, and the "day of provisional government" was "established." The tailors, plasterers and railway porters now in prison represent the approved heads of a ripe conspiracy. In fact, the contemptuous indifference of the government led to greater openness on the part of the conspirators than was originally designed. In the beginning, and in device, the Fenian Brotherhood was a very secret society, but its members at last grew so bold and threw disguise aside so generally that they left as little to learn.—London Times.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION OF SOUTH CAROLINA.—The following is a summary of the provisions of the new South Carolina Constitution, that document being published entire in the Charleston Courier of September 19th:

Representation is placed, as heretofore, upon the joint basis of the amount of all taxes raised, whether direct or indirect, and the number of white inhabitants in each election district. This important change, however, is made, that where as all lands in the State, except those in the cities, were assessed under the old system according to a fixed, unequal and arbitrary estimate, now the taxes will be laid according to the actual value of the property. This is a reform which has long been needed, and is one strictly founded on common right. It will prove a great relief to Charleston, which alone paid nearly one-third of the impost in the State.

One Senator is assigned to each Judicial District, except in the Judicial District of Charleston, which constitutes, under the present arrangement, two election districts. The city, composed of the late parishes of St. Philip's and St. Michael's, forms one election district with two Senators, and the former parishes of Christ Church, St. John's Berkeley, St. Andrew's, St. James' Goose Creek, St. Thomas' and St. Dennis', St. James' Santee, St. Stephen's and St. John's Colleton, constitute another election district under the name of the election district of Berkeley, and are entitled to one Senator in place of the eight they were accustomed to when distinct election districts.

The House of Representatives remain the same in numbers, with the proviso that no one election district shall be assigned more than twelve Representatives. The quota of Charleston heretofore was twenty. In other respects the provisions on this subject are substantially the same.

The viva voce vote has been substituted in the General Assembly for the suffrage by ballot.

The office of Governor which has been in a measure nominal in its character, is invested with great power. The term is extended to four years. He is to be elected by the people, and in case of equality of votes, he is then to be chosen by the General Assembly. The pardoning power is committed to his exercise, but with the safeguard that he is to report to the Legislature all cases of amnesty which have been granted by him, with a full statement of the reasons thereof.

In order to prevent hasty legislation, the veto power is vested in him, subject to be overruled by a majority of both branches of the General Assembly.

The Lieutenant Governor also elected by the people, becomes, by virtue of his office, the President of the Senate, and succeeds to the chair of state in case of a vacancy.

The law is to be administered by superior and inferior courts, to be directed and established by the Legislature. The Judges of the Superior Court to be elected by them for the term of good behavior; those of the inferior courts for four years. One of the latter to be elected in each judicial district, and to be especially charged with the trial "of all civil causes [illegible] one or both of the parties are persons of color, and of all criminal [illegible] the [illegible] is a person of color."

The [illegible] for a seat in the Senate or House of Representatives is [illegible] with. The qualifications for the suffrage are the same as before, with an [illegible] in favor of emigrants from Europe, who, in lieu of the provision of two years' previous citizenship, must have declared their intention to become a citizen of the United States according to the Constitution and laws of the same. No estate is made requisite.

The Treasurers of the upper and lower divisions are united into one, whose office will be at Columbia.

The clause in regard to involuntary servitude [illegible], first, that the slaves have been emancipated by the action of the United States authorities, and secondly, that, except as a punishment for crime upon due conviction, it shall never be re-established.

MINTS.—The Alta, in an article on Mints, says:

One of the greatest wants of our Mint system is an appropriate building in this city. Our mint was built to coin $5,000,0000 annually, and it does coin $18,000,000; and it is far inferior in size and accommodations to the mother mint, which coins only about $4,000,000. There are now three mints and one Assay Office in operation, and two mints authorized to be built, but not commenced. The Denver mint coins only about $500,000 annually, and is a failure.

There is one thing more permanent than wealth, more enduring than political preferment, more to be desired than legal lore, and that one thing is elevation of thought, and the public man, the thinker or the writer that appeals to anything less than the highest, the best, the most magnanimous sentiments of his fellow men will neither be kept in their remembrance nor attract posterity to honor his native city.

ENGLISH CAPITAL.—The Boston Journal says English capitalists have invested £600,000 in Colorado mining lands, and their agents and employees are en route to develop the same. The claims are principally in Russel and Trail Run Districts, and their recent purchase has been the Seaton Lode of 10,000 feet, for which they paid £100,000 alone.

General Fremont, at the head of a company of Eastern capitalists is about to embark in the business of manufacturing railroad iron. The company has purchased extensive tracts of mineral land in Missouri.

Lord Brougham is very anxious to have the Cuban slave trade stopped. But he was not at all anxious to have the rebels fail in their attempt to establish an empire with slavery as the chief corner stone.

The desks of the Confederate Congress have been sold at auction in Richmond. They brought only twenty-five cents a piece. Confederacies are as ungrateful as Republics.

One of twin brothers died; a fellow, meeting the survivor, asked, "Which is it that's dead, you or your brother?"

GATHERING AND KEEPING FRUIT.—It is becoming a well understood principle that pears are improved by being gathered before fully ripe. Some should approach nearer maturity than others. But early apples should be fully ripe, as a general rule, before gathering. Late fall and early winter apples should not be eatable when picked, and all the late winter varieties should be gathered when too hard to yield to the pressure of the thumb, and always before heavy fall frosts. A dry time should be selected if possible. There will be a few specimens not yet mature, but you can afford to throw them out to save the best and main crop. When a good keeping variety begins to drop freely from the tree, as is sometimes the case, secure the balance of the crop as soon as possible, but they should not be mixed with those on the ground—not one should be saved with those picked. Wind falls will not keep, for in addition to the injury sustained from the fall, they become heated by lying upon the ground exposed to the sun and hot air, and the ripening process already commenced is hastening it to a rapid decay.

No matter how hot the weather is, an apple is always cool while upon the tree, and in that condition should be taken care of, if we would have it keep in its most perfect condition for the full development of all the delicious juices with which it is so abundantly supplied. How to obtain it in that condition will be my purpose now to show. We have seen that it must be carefully gathered before it is too ripe, as it is commonly termed, but I say before it is ripe, for when it is ripe it is fit to eat, and that should not be the case with winter apples when gathered.

We have also seen that heat hastens the ripening process, and the cold retards it. Apples should, therefore, be kept cool, barely so as not to freeze. A minimum temperature of 31° is about right, with as little fluctuation as possible.

It is not for the purpose of assuming to know more than the most of you about the best method of keeping apples, that I give the subject so large a space in this address, but it is to give it more prominence in our deliberations than it has heretofore had. I regard it as one of the points over looked in all meetings of this kind.

Whether we regard the ripening process as a vital or chemical action, it is quite sure that it should go on gradual and unchecked until all the good qualities are fully developed, and when the highest point of excellence is attained, then the fruit should be used. It is never so good as when just fully ripe, but is frequently eatable for a long time. Some varieties become dry and mealy, others tough and leathery. Others, by being kept very cool, will frequently remain in a very good condition for a very long time, or by the use of artificial means may be kept for an almost indefinite period.

I hold that the ripening process, once commenced, goes on, no matter how cold, if frost is not present, slowly, perhaps, but uninterruptedly, until full maturity. Hence the importance of a cool cellar, which should always be dry and dark. It should be frequently aired, when the outside temperature will allow of it. Some varieties are much more sensitive to their treatment than others. The Winesap, for instance, which has a thick skin, may be abused a great deal in handling and but indifferently cared for in the cellar and yet it will keep pretty well, that is, it will rot but little; but, if kept close and warm, it is subject to a fungus that renders it scarcely tolerable to eat. But if it is kept cool and dry, all its best qualities are retained. It is also one of the varieties that does best kept on open shelves. The Belmont, on the other hand, which I regard as one of the best and most profitable apples, is very impatient of bad treatment. Its skin is smooth and thin, and flesh of a delicate texture. If roughly handled and kept in a warm room, it soon decays. If carefully handled and kept in a cool place, it keeps with very little waste till April or May. Indeed, it is with me one of the very best of keepers.—Trans. Ind. Hort. Society.

THE NATIONAL FAITH.—The following is an extract from a speech delivered by Hon. Chas. Sumner, at the Massachusetts Republican State Convention, September 14th, 1865:

"There is another object, kindred to security, or, perhaps, embraced in security; and that is the national faith. This, too, must be placed beyond cavil or even "suspicion." No nation can be powerful to disregard this sacred bond. Character, fame, and prosperity itself are all dependent upon its observance. But the national faith is solemnly engaged, first, to the national freedmen, and secondly, to the national creditors. No undertaking can be more complete and inviolable because it constituted the consideration for those services and supplies by which the life of the Republic has been preserved. The national faith is pledged to the national freedmen, not only by the act of Emancipation, which, in its very essence and from the very nature of the case, is a "warranty of title," but also by the plain and positive promise of the Proclamation, that the "Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons." Words could not be more binding, and the history of their introduction testifies to their significance and efficacy. They were not in the original draft by President Lincoln, but were inserted, at the suggestion of Mr. Seward, when the Proclamation was read to the Cabinet; and there they stand without any limitation of place or time, binding the Republic in its national character, through its Executive, including the military and naval authority, not only to recognize, but to maintain the freedom of the emancipated slave, and this is to be done, not in any special locality, but everywhere, and not for a day or year, but for all time. Our obligation to the national creditors is of the same validity, approved by successive acts of Congress, ratified by the popular will, and fixed beyond recall by the actual enjoyment of these precious fruits for which the debt was incurred. Repudiation of our bonds, whether to the national creditors or the national freedmen, would be a shame and a crime, and the national faith is irrevocably plighted to the two alike. Here is the Proclamation, and here is the Treasury Note. Look at the signatures, and look at the terms. The former is signed by the President himself, Abraham Lincoln, the latter is signed by an unknown clerk, whose name I cannot now decipher. The former is stronger and more positive in its terms, than the latter. The Treasury Note simply says that it is "redeemable" after a certain date, and that "this debt is authorized by Act of Congress." The binding terms of the Proclamation, which I have already read, are solemnly enforced by that memorable invocation at the close: "And upon this Act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God." Thus religion comes to confirm the pledge with sanctions of its own. The pledge is as enduring as the republic itself.

Such are the supreme objects now at heart—the "National Security and the National Faith," or the two absorbed into one, "Security for the Future."

SOMETHING TO THINK OF.—An Idaho correspondent of one of our cotemporaries writes that large numbers of parties in that Territory—a majority of them—obtain the machinery for their quartz and other mills from Chicago, freighting them overland. The quality of the machinery procured in Chicago, Illinois, is not as good as that procured in San Francisco, but the cost of freight from the former city is so much cheaper than from the latter, that it becomes a matter of great saving for the Idaho miners to make their purchases on the shores of Lake Michigan instead of the shores of the Pacific. The distance from Chicago to the Idaho mines is fully fifteen hundred miles, while from San Francisco it is less than seven hundred. Yet freight can be transported over the former long and tedious route much cheaper than it can over the latter short one.—Call.

THE LATE DR. WORCESTER.—The death of the eminent lexicographer, Joseph E. Worcester, as already announced, occurred at his residence in Cambridge (Mass.) October 27th. He was born in Bedford (N. H.) August 24, 1784, and was somewhat 81 years of age at his decease. He graduated at Yale College in 1811. Besides his famous dictionary he was the author of a geographical dictionary or Universal Gazetteer of the United States, Elements of Geography, Ancient and Modern, Epitome of Geography, Sketches of the Earth and its Inhabitants, Elements of History, Ancient and Modern, Spelling-book of the English Language, Remarks on Longevity and several other valuable works. He received the degree of LL.D. from Dartmouth College and Brown University.

Referring to the opening of the Suez Canal the New York Commercial says, This is but the revival of an old undertaking. In the time of Sesostris and the Ptolemys long before the Christian era, and at a period subsequent to the division of the Ancient Roman Empire, there were free commercial communications from Europe to the East by means of a canal very nearly on the route of the present line. It was destroyed during the Saracen wars, and its reconstruction was planned by the first Napoleon and executed by the inheritor of his genius and empire.

A Copperhead editor denounces the idea of a union with Canada. Of course. Where could a poor body go in case of another draft?

Henry Edgerton, of California, has established himself at Nashville, Tennessee, in the practice of law.

SHARP QUARTERMASTER.—Some time ago the Government had a Quartermaster in New Orleans who, it was feared, did himself a great many good turns. He had in fact, become suddenly rich and showed his riches in his purchases and mode of living. So the War Department set a trap to catch him, and find out how much he made by "commissions" paid by contractors. One fine morning a detective called on the Quartermaster and was anxious to furnish certain supplies for the army. The Quartermaster thought at once that he saw before him a "liberal minded" contractor and concluded he could do a "good thing" with him. After a long conversation on prices and other points of interest, but in which the detective utterly failed to pin suspicion to the Quartermaster's skirts the following conversation closed the conference:

Quartermaster—Do you know what our Savior said to Zaccheus when he was in the sycamore tree?

Detective—No, I do not. I am not familiar with the scriptures. What did he say?

Quartermaster—He said, "Zaccheus, make haste and come down."

The hint to "come down" supplied the ground of suspicion that the detective was looking for, and in a few days the Quartermaster was dismissed from the service.—Eastern Exchange.

A new married couple went to Niagara on a visit, and the gentleman in order to convince his dear that he was as brave as he was gallant, resolved to go down into the "Cave of the Winds." She, of course objected. But finding that he was determined, she tenderly requested him to leave his pocketbook and watch behind.

THE CHOLERA.—It is estimated that upwards of 50,000 lives had been lost in Constantinople [illegible] in that city. The daily mortality was not only estimated at from 1,500 to 2,500, and according to newspaper reports the stench from the imperfectly buried corpses was almost intolerable.

The following are among the notices put up at a petroleum town in Western Pennsylvania:

"No talking with the chambermaids." "Fare as high as at any other house." "Not responsible for boots left in the hall." "No smoking admitted."

IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form.
